Reading for fun v.s. academic reading?

Have you ever noticed the difference between reading for fun v.s. academic reading? I am sure, many of you might have not. We have never thought how differently our brain works, and how we feel when we read for fun or when we study for exams. Some people feel reading for fun and academic reading will affect their thinking patterns in the same way. But there is a lot to explore when we dive deep into this topic.

Reading has been a common way to pass time for many individuals. When we are free, happy, alone we read. The human nature is such that the need of gaining new knowledge & jumping from one world of thought to other never stops. Our "thirst for knowledge" is fulfilled by books and reading.

Since history reading for various purposes has been given a lot of importance. The scholars known in our society like Ratan Tata, Abdul Kalam have gained immense knowledge and changed the way society thinks & lives. But from where did this come. It's all because of reading diverse perspectives & gaining insights. These scholars never felt lethargic to read. If many scholars like them wouldn't have read, we won't have followed their ideas, vision in society. Reading always inspires us to do something better. It changes our cognitive thinking patterns.

While there are various types and purposes of reading. There are two types of reading: reading for fun v/s. academic reading.

There are many people who are so confused regarding what to do in their leisure time so they read. Reading for fun helps to reduce stress, calm the brain.

There are various types of books read when they read for fun like comics, novels, fantasy books.

It helps to activate the brain. ~~#~~ Reading for fun can also be done in an informal manner where friends come together read a book and share thoughts. A bored / stressed person also feels relaxed when they read any kind of book they prefer.

~~Here~~ In this kind of reading there are no targets, pressure and you can read freely.

Academic reading is often done in school, colleges, workplaces. Researchers also get engaged in this kind of reading style.

This type of reading is a bit stressful as you can have deadlines to read a paragraph as you might have a test on it. While some people enjoy academic reading others might not. Since childhood academic reading is present in our lives. Academic reading also helps to gain knowledge about wide variety of subjects, prepare for companies interviews. This kind of reading can be monotonous but very helpful in our lives. Even the scientists, mathematicians whom we know have come so far because of reading and gaining new insights.

Comparing and contrasting:

When we compare academic reading v.s. reading for fun, both are useful as they both help us to develop and think more. Even the world's largest inventions can't happen without contribution of both. These two types of ~~reading~~ reading provide us with new information every single time we sit to read them. But everything has differences, certain special features.

Reading for fun does not give you a deadline which academic reading gives you. Reading for fun might be sounding more interesting to people compared to academic reading. Academic reading has more demands compared to reading for fun.

The question here is "do we actually read?" With rising scope of social media, people are switching to mobiles and tabs, which has dwindled the necessity of reading. Due to lack of efforts & time people have been getting the scope reading has in one's life. Even children who are small are made to play games rather than read. Our previous generations have wide topics to discuss because they read. If a trend as such where people do not go to read continues, it will hamper the creativity & skills of upcoming generation. There will be no sign of development.

To conclude, I would say it is our responsibility to bring the trend of reading in today's generation.

"Padhega India, tabhi toh Badhega India."

Both reading for fun & academic reading can happen when we take the initiative to read. Both types of reading can

Books vs E-books

"I like the smell and textures of new and old books?" "Oh! its very rare I read books". The common talks between two youngsters. Reading is an important skill that fill us with excitement, of suspense, sorrow and many other feelings. There are different sources of reading. Most commonly used are books, newspapers, magazines, e-books, etc.

Books are known as traditional books. They play a keen role in shaping future of a child. Since from our childhood we have been using books. When we buy new books the aroma, feelings on fingers by touching it makes us more connected to books. In our childhood when we get new books from school. We use to open it more than ten times in a day to see it. Books are real connection between feelings of human being.

E-books are also an important source of reading. When an new book is published. We can get it access from different e-books site like Kindle. But reading traditional books by keeping it in our hand. It helps us to understand the topic more clearly.

Think a situation that you are travelling near mountain regions. You want to know about different plant species, fruits that are edible. At that short of time Books play a role of magic. We can keep books related to plants, animals which are helpful in travelling near mountain regions. While E-books one of the disadvantage is presence of mobile data and battery (charging) in mountain's region we usually do not have signals to access or read e-books.

Several books of like Atlas contains maps which will be helpful in knowing directions while travelling, hiking. This behaviour of elements is not present in E-books.

Some researchers have found that reading of books increase the communication skills, grammar, creativity. This all will helps us in our academic growth. E-books also provide same but it causes many health issues. Watching videos, reading papers, comics for an hour can cause eye problems. Students eye get under stress. Some get migrains, feel tired.

During corona time researchers found that students with eye problems has increased by 10.9%. E-books are having disadvantage over the health of individual. Even ~~by~~ regular checkups of eyes are still costly for poor people.

Moving towards success. Reading books helps in increasing our intellectual power. Most the best example is our old education system. Lurus were reading books and students wrote down every point. This helps in building a relationship between teacher and student.

Let's go back in lthen times. Just take your old book of poem. When you will open it you will find different types of structures drawn by pencils, coffee, tea stains, scratches and many other things. This quality of book reading makes us having nostalgia. E-books does not provide Buying a book of $ 30 and getting the books online on kindle of $120. Money matters of every individual. Still today in our country there are many middle class family. If they buy books for their elder child after his completion of study, it will be passed to next younger ones. So, books also play an important role in money saving.

Most of people have thoughts that books are made by cutting down of trees. It causes deforestation. So, E-book is very good as it does not cause pollution. Really, is it true? More than traditional books, E-books cause pollution. That are increasing electromagnetic radiation on earth. by using different electronic devices like phones, laptops, pendrives. One can plant the tree but cannot reduce the radiations which are not visible to our eyes.

Nowadays, E-books reading have an issue of copyrights. Some people copy the content with wrong annotation, mips, contents. While accessing them students gets confused what to study, which book to refer.

While travelling in bus we used to read story books. Books are key for lock of enjoyment, thrills. While reading books a person get excited what's going to come next. Most of the undiscovered things are specified in books.

Books are connection between human's feeling. They provide vast knowledge. By reading books one can increase intellectual knowledge, grammar, communication skills. Books brings us with nostalgia. They become a guider during our hiking. As we can find the author signature on book. We can also take signature of author. which is not possible in E-books. E-books also have its importance big access to all. We can get copies of sold out books online. Especially

Books have always been a gateway to the different worlds, creative ideas and human emotions. They preserve the generational stories, knowledge and the essence of humanly endless imaginations. In today's digital era generation, reading has taken two different forms: Traditional Printed Books and Digital E-books. Both of them have their own uniqueness, but they spark a heartfelt debate. Which one feels closer to the heart? Can both of them exist together?

THE MAGIC OF TRADITIONAL BOOKS

Holding a book feels like holding a piece of history. The feeling of pages, the scent of papers - something earthy, something sweet, the experience a screen can never give. ~~Have~~ How often have we pressed a flower in between the pages of the book? It's not just about words, it's about turning a book into keepsake, a special memory. Holding a book in hand and feeling its weight, seeing the ink dance on the page, hearing the ruffle sound as we turn the page. The printed books connects us with the story. Whether it's gifting a book with a handwritten note on the first page or passing on a generational book to the new generation, the memories are

As Stephen King once said "Books are uniquely portable magic"

THE EFFICIENCY OF E-BOOKS

Ebooks whereas are way too practical. It's like carrying a tiny library in your pockets. Imagine, thousands of books at your fingertips. Ready to read ~~an~~ any book whenever and wherever, if you are in the bus, standing in a queue or travelling somewhere far-off, no more excuses for not reading! You can get to read your favourite book on a single tap. Additionally, a type of E-book known as audio-book can also help visually impaired readers. The features like changing the text-size helps the reader to read comfortably, highlighting your favourite lines that too without damaging the text and being able to carry it anywhere makes it better. ~~The~~

Books Vs E-BOOKS

The main difference comes is memories vs practicality. While Books hold the nostalgic feeling of past the E-books carry you to the future efficiently. ~~The~~ 15 billion trees approx. are cut annually for making of books, so as per calculations an E-book reader saves up 27 trees in lifetime.

SIDES OF THE SAME COIN

After all Books and e-books are both the sides of a same coin. ~~#~~ More than rivals, they can be called partners as they share the same goal of being read and reflected. ~~Marti~~ George Martin beautifully said "One who reads books lives thousand lives at once, a man who does not read only lives once." Imagine a child reading printed books with colourful pictures, turning pages with parents sitting next to him, now ~~in~~ picture a traveller reading e-books from his kindle, without ~~just~~ wasting his time, enjoying the book and his journey. Both the scenarios were ~~beat~~ beautiful, right? No matter what you read, a book which is printed or a digital e-book, it may be your personal preference but what matters is reading. Because reading opens doors to different worlds!

BOOKS VS EBOOKS

The traditional books and ebooks both have its own specialities, advantages and disadvantages equally. In this essay I will elaborate both the books and we will have a conclusion on which is preferred the most.

Traditional reading is preferred by many of the old people. People like the sound of pages while turning, the smell of ink, innovative and creative coverpage. The advantages of these books is that we get a peaceful reading. As it is not portable you don't need to charge it. It is also non-distracting. One can give it as a gift also can lend it to someone. It can be placed in a book shelf which can be used as a home decor.

On the other hand the ebooks are most preferred by the teenagers and students. It is very handy and can be carried anywhere easily. It has different font sizes so that one can adjust its font sizes according to their vision. It has a night-mode and are cheaper than the traditional books. It is in a digital manner as there is no wastage of pages. you can surf any of the ebooks on internet of your choice ~~and~~ as the books are easily available with a lots of variety.

As both of them has its advantages well it also has some drawbacks. The traditional books has very small fonts which sometimes may be difficult for a reader to read. Also it has to be carried everywhere and is not very handy. It also occupies space which may lead to storage issues.

On the other hand the ebooks are very distractive and may lead to vision issues as it is a long time of use of ~~screen~~ screen. It can be an addiction of smart-phones to kids which may impact their future. Ebooks often needs to be charged. The books or the files made to store the ebooks also can get deleted accidentally.

According to the Pew Research Center only 28% of people has preferred ebooks in the year 2020. while according to the American Research center 74% of the people preferred the physical traditional reading in the year 2020. Ebooks does have more creativity than traditional books but to maintain a fit health one should choose the physical reading. Some people love turning the pages, the smell of books the physical experience of reading. which an ebook can't give. Because of ebooks the demand for traditional reading is decreasing. People are choosing their comfort over their vision.

In conclusion, the demand of ebooks is increasing but most of people still prefer the traditional reading. The ebooks are evolving more day by day as it is handy and easy to carry along.

Reading for fun Vs. Academic Reading.

Whenever you feel boring,
or get a struck,
or you feel meditation shortening,
books all your luck!

What is reading? We can say that reading is a art of decoding words ^{and} symbols. Reading is magical instrument as you can visit various people, different places and many more to explore. Reading is generally classified into two types i.e Reading for fun and academic reading. Both of this have significant role as both of this type of reading gives a vast knowledge in variant aspect.

Let us first discuss on reading for fun. Whenever a person is in anxiety, stress or he has no bestfriends, a book has always come front to help us. A book is not only a bestfriend but a good teacher and motivator too. Books never betray you. Reading a book never shortens one horizon. Reading for fun basically provides the reader a pleasure, entertainment, a world of your imagination, ride towards all the different places in a map. Reading for fun is boundaryless, and books are a source of your infinity imaginations. Reading for fun help to enhance one skill, moral values, vocabulary, personality development, and a way towards your success.

While Academic Reading has some boundaries to boundaries to maintain. Academic reading is a type of classroom-based learning. Generally Academic reading is a type of reading practised by student or a person performing a course. Academic reading holds some aspects like skimming, skat scanning, summarizing. In this type of reading. The Reader focusses on getting answers related to academic. It does not give any entertainment. It can create a stress on reader's mind. While academic reading signifies or helps a person to develop memory, skills, data collection related to the syllabus. Here the readers read the book in motto to achieve good marks or credits. Which can also burnout one with lot of pressure.

In this competitive based era. One person compete other person to score good marks, higher position, good income etc. In order to achieve this the reader visit library once in a blue moon. to get books on entrance exam, to find answers related to their subject. A person with reading habit visit library daily which has secured places for library. What is a reading habit? Reading habit is a habit of finding information and analyzing data, which a person do by own's interest.

If we see Autobiographies or interviews of great people like Savitribai Phule, Dr. Babasaheb Ambedkar, Issac Newton, Mahatma Gandhi, etc we will come to know that the wheel of reading is a reason of their success.

Sometimes, it is better to read a book other than academics. Reading for fun is not just followed by students, but also devotee, engineers, professors, etc. It leads to your dreamlands. It helps you to answer all life question. Reading for fun is not a act of forcing it is the choice of readers.

"Reading a book is like Reading a person at a time". Reading for fun also enhances your skills whether it may be experimental or written. But in today's world which is full of screen, who will understand the importance of book. In ancient time people start interpreting their knowledge orally, which was like a story. Later after decades this oral information was scripted in bhujapatta, leaves, bark by minting or script inscription. It has taken a vast number of years to get a printable book. Thus we should note the importance of book in our life as "One good book is better than hundred fake friends". The amazement of ~~Boo~~ books is just gratifying. If you start reading a book for your own pleasure you will find numerous experiences, stories which will make you laugh, make you teach and all also help in widening of your horizon. Reading for fun can be taken from your book of interest like storybook, novels, poetries, encyclopedias etc. So start the art of reading for your own happiness.

Open a book and you will find,

As we stand at crossroad of traditional and digital the age old question echoes; 'Can the musty scent of old books be replaced by the glow of a screen?' With the click of button, the written word can be summoned onto screen but can it replace the joy of turning physical pages?

All these questions arising while choosing the digital and physical books and the answer of all these questions are a big 'No'. No device can replace the books. As I read many books so with my own experience I am saying that no other device can connect us like the books does.

There are many advantages of having physical books. While e-books have many disadvantages like it affect on our health while focussing on screen

As we stand at crossroad of traditional and digital the age old question echoes; 'Can the musty scent of old books be replaced by the glow of screen?' With the click of button, the written word can be summoned onto screen but can it replace the joy of turning physical pages?'

So, the answer of these all questions are a big 'NO'. As I read many books & journals so with my personal experience I can say that no device have and will take place of physical books. The type of bond and connection we feel during reading the books will be never replaced by other gadget.

I will proof you why physical books are better than e-book. We care for our health alot but as you all know using and having an e-book effect on our vision. Our eye sight are weaken. The rays coming through the screen affects our eyes badly. This is the big reason of saying no to e-book.

Another one is while travelling if we carry an e-book than we have to carry its charger and earphones etc. while books lack it. Also people of old age find its difficult of plugging charges, earphones etc. In case of books we just have to carry the specific book and nothing else.

Also old age people who have less knowledge about technology & devices. They find it difficult to use e-books. E-books requires font adjustment and many more settings. So people of all age are not comfortable with it.

The type of sensory feel we get during turning the pages are incredible, while e-book lack it. These are few reasons to prefer books over e-books. Also books are cheaper than e-book. Every student can afford it and can get knowledge through it.

Some people stay in slum areas where there is less or no access to internet. There they cannot use e-book due to no internet connections. While books doesn't requires any type of internet to get knowledge. We can simply take our book in our hand & read it.

Books are available everywhere today. There are many libraries nowadays where people can go and can have abundance of knowledges. Books also attracts us toward itself by its outer covering, while in e-books we have to search for a book by ourself.

While using e-books there are changes of getting distracted easily by other apps notification coming on screen. Once we get distracted our concentration is lost and it becomes difficult to again focus on it. While having physical books doesn't have any type of notification so we can read it with focus & good concentration.

Books are not new to us even before in our ancient time everyone was using books only like Granth, etc. So we have a habit of using it also a type of connection with the books. So, having books in our hand physically are our emotions. We laugh, we cry, we get emotional through it.

No other device can replace it. We just require silence and a little space for using Books and no other equipment is required while e-books ask for other equipment. E-books can be used for limited time only we have to charge it time to time otherwise it will be of no use.

Conclusion;

So I think I tried ^{my best} ~~you~~ to explain the advantages of having physical books. The bond we have with books will never ever be going to change. Today also books are as important as they were in the past. So think before you replace your book with an e-book.

Books which is easily and available in shops, library, stores many places. Books are better than E-books because people don't have to waste their data, screen time on it. Books are hand written which is written by the people who have experience and have been present at that event time. Books can easily be refer and carried from one place to another. Books have the genuine and feelings and story of people. E-books lead the new generation to loss interest in handwritten books. People have understand the books are friend but using the right way has not be esset.

To know the great and actual events, program, we have to refer books. E-books doesn't contain the great events and story. Ebooks are some time edit and false statement and stories are published. E-books are good for those student who have money, phones and time but what about student who do not have phone, money, time so, at some place books are available at free. So, people who cannot afford E-books can get books. Books like history, geography and other languages represent the great meaning of books which is hand written and easy to understand. People have right to education we have to give right to people who cannot have E-books but by increasing the publication and popularity of books we can help out each other and generation.

Books have its own way of reading. People read books not just for fun, entertainment but to know about your past, present and future. E-books are online which does not mean it shows all the information and story true. People learning from books get the right to know about the writer and his/her work. Due to E-books demand it's lead and not letting other people who are interested in writing to present their views.

E-books are good and it's good for those who have habit of reading on screen, software functions but people having eye issue, and people who want to know more about thing can refer books. E-books are not mostly available in all languages where else books are available in any languages. E-books does not give right way of information. Sometime E-books make mistakes but books are refer twice and then published. ~~at~~ this is why books does not ~~can~~ contain any mistake.

For each and every one to have a ~~propose paper~~ good learning skills and reading interest. Books are more better than E-books. E-books have advantages but it's not good for both mental and physical health which lead to many disorders and health issue where else books are easily available and affordable for everyone and books demand increases so, many writers and authors also get ~~the~~ motivated to write and present their talent. E-books immense but it's not a good way for a reader to read and to put interest in books.

E-books and books both have their own advantageous and disadvantageous but books are in more demand because it is available ~~every~~ everywhere and people do not waste time searching things they can buy and read it out. E-books and books are both are good way in reading but it's your duty to increase the publication and popularity for books for a well knowing stories. Books are your friend they never leave you not in E-books or books it's your way of seeing and putting interest according to you.

Education and learning never comes from books it also come from the way you see your surroundings. So E-book or books both are the right way of learning and getting educated. Ebooks or books should be contained by readers and childrens. It so, learning is important but choose the right way of learning.

Reading for fun v/s Academic reading

Reading is the reason for success of many people. Reading is the cornerstone of the education. Reading gives a positive impact on your life and shape your life. Having a habit of reading regularly open up your mind, lead to creative thinking, and thinking of analytics.

Reading for academics doesn't make your mind, thoughts to explore. While Reading for fun gives you an analytical thinking. Academic reading can for sure take you to a certain path and formal education. But Reading for fun can help to improve vocabulary, listening comprehension. Also, your language improves when reading for fun.

Academic reading keeps you in touch with the topics of syllabus, books and portions. While, Reading for fun keeps you in touch with your interests, your potential, your passion, understanding someone's point of view.

like - having a group conversation about fiction, to enhance vocabulary and conversation skills.

Letsure reading is beyond knowledge. It can lead you to a position you dreamed of, to not procrastinate, and critical thinking. Procastination is worst thing teenagers are going through nowadays.

They procrastinate having a life they dreamed of, procrastinate to explore the world, to socialize, to learn a new sport, to read, to write and even to think and be hygenic.

This will give your life a negative impact. The biggest regret one can have is "Not reaching their own potential"; why, because of procrastination, because sleeping in leisure time, Not utilizing time productively.

Turning ~~vs~~ Tapping ~~scr~~ - The Book Debate

In a world, where Technology shapes our every move, one debate remains timeless: books or ebooks? While both have their own merits, the traditional book holds their charm that e-books can never ~~copy~~ replicate.

"Feel the pages, feel the magic"

The overall changes of this fast pacing world that can sometimes give a thought of e-books as more convenience but there is something irreplaceable about holding a book in your hand. Feeling the weight of the book, the scent of fresh ink, weathered, torn pages, the highlighted text and the old classic connects us to the stories in ways that screens cannot. Books offers an immersive experience, free from "glow of screens" or any digital distractions.

BOOKS WHERE STORIES - BREATHE

Reading a physical book is more of an intimate journey. From underlining the words, provoking thoughts, quotes, books become personal artifacts brimming with memories.

THEY DON'T JUST TELL STORIES - "THEY HOLD THEM"
FOREVER TANGIBLE AND ALIVE.

ESCAPE THE SCREEN, EMBRACE THE SCENE

While e-books offers convenience, but they come up with lot of challenges the digital eye-strain, battery dependence, lack of emotional connection, and lot more. While Traditional book, on the other hand, always ready to "transport" you to the another world without the need of wifi or electricity. It is absolutely free to transport facility which any person can ever get.

It helps to make you feel, each and every emotions, pleasures, threats, adventures of life, etc.

BOOKS BUILDS CHARACTER, NOT JUST SHELVES

The tactile experience of reading books builds focus, imagination power, and many more. The unfleeting nature of person to keep on tapping and rolling on the screen, ~~it~~ traditional books works better as it slows down the pace and allows us to grab the content.

Therefore, it is said that the books just not build shelves, it builds 'CHARACTER.'

Lives all thrills are experienced in books without any eye-mind strain.

It is the treasures, wisdom, experiences which are passed from generation to generation. Free from any distractions, messages from loved ones or any notification, the person can sit in solitude on a couch and ^{can} might read and embrace the content.

In conclusion, I ~~might~~ must say to always while e-books are convenient, the traditional books are at never ending appeals. Readers keep on long for/appeal for books, where they could live.

Free from the flash, glow - the little noise of turning the pages, ~~and~~ keeps you alive.

The joy of person feel on reaching the next chapter, the curiosity - all ^{this} makes the person delighted. ~~and~~

The simplest thing can give the person - the biggest "joy". Therefore, if ever to choose between "Tapping or turning" the pages, I would always choose to turn the pages.

- It ~~can~~ is a proper use of technology in this modern era.

Disadvantages of E-book:

- with advantages of E-books there are many disadvantages are also there for E-books. e-books.

- cannot be used when we do not have proper internet connection or charging in phone.

- not ~~all~~ all the e-books are easily available.

- we can only ~~use~~ read the book ~~when~~ until its available on the internet.

- can cause irritation in eyes, eyes stretching and headache because of ~~the~~ reading continuously from smartphone or laptop.

- we cannot give e-book to anyone as a gift because it won't make a good, positive impact.

- It can cause many distraction while reading because of pop-ups and social media.

- and there are many books which can cost upto a very high price.

- after continuous reading it can cause discomfort.

also books ~~are~~ are a very good option for many people to give as a gift ^{on other side} and we cannot give e-books as a gift to other people.

with advantage and disadvantages on the the parts book and e-books are useful. Just like a coin books and e-books both have 2 sides advantages and disadvantages.

Books vs Ebooks

With the evolving technology, are we losing our intimate connection with literature and tradition of flipping the pages of a book? Books also known as the storehouse of knowledge and development, have played important role throughout history for the evolution and development of mankind, by passing down traditional values and beliefs through generations.

Knowledge, an important aspect of life, without which evolution would be difficult and what could be a better way of getting knowledge other than our grandparents and the books. Both of which exist and provide information and knowledge, manners and traditional practices to their generations.

Today's modern world has seen evolution that has gone from books to computers and libraries to e-library in matter of few years. Books were first made by binding manuscripts and keeping them together. In this world of technology, a heated argument has erupted after the launch of e-books (electronic books) that wheather they are better than physical books ^{and} ~~or~~ are more reliable than the other.

Electronic books (e-books) are in format of PDF, Kindle, etc, where one may get to view books on their digital devices or computers from wherever they are present in the world. E-books and digital reading have advantages, that a single device has an entire library in it; from which any type of reading material would be accessible for anyone. They might be travel-friendly and have many advantages but, no technological advancement can be better than the physical publications or physical copies of books.

Books are a very reliable than the e-books as they are written and published after undergoing several fact-checks and authorization. Whereas, e-books could be easily manipulated by people online and could not be on the same level of trustworthy. Books written by authors and researchers are sold with the money where the writers get paid well and are motivated to perform well another time, but in the case of e-books, due to the heavy prices of manual book, ^{some} people tend to hire a hacker to get a copy of the book without paying. This leads to demotivation of the authors and the next generation of writers.

Physical copies or books are one of the best ways to read and learn as they allow for the reader to mark, highlight or doodle or add up some fun texts so that they remember about its significance. These type of annotations are also available of the e-books on computers but they are limited and does not allow the user to annotate what they want freely.

The books tend to give the ~~owner~~^{reader} a sense of ownership, where they can flip pages, put it in their house library, carry in their backpacks, the weight of the book makes the reader to take it seriously and makes them aware about the responsible attitude towards it; while the ebooks are present in the screen where one can get bored to look at the same screen with the same font and can be distracted by various other platforms present on the device. Even to read an e-book one has to buy it online and then read it, but it remains in the e-library forever, but the physical books are present in the house or a working place where it could be present till the bindings are in good conditions and the pages won't come off.

Lately, many people have got eye problems, having eye strains, weak retina and other related problems one of which is due to the bright flashing screens of the devices. These devices, if stared at continuously weakens the eye power and it also affects the overall health. E-books are very handy but it comes with its own problems. Physical books ~~to~~ increases the ^{quality} choices of the reader, as they fight themselves to choose for a better book and better vocabulary whereas the e-books provide every book at ~~the~~ three swipes.

~~E-books' readers often fear social meet ups and get~~

Physical books give the readers a chance to communicate with others and find out what's better at the time and what could be a preferable book in this genre, when they are in libraries, they get to physically feel the books and have the best one chosen, The readers could even go through books even without buying it but that's not the case in the digital books, where you would be not allowed to even preview the book before trying to buy.

With the evolving generations and eras, one should try to merge with others, but not at the cost of leaving behind our traditional ways. Books are better in physical forms as they are easy to manage and if maintained and kept properly in sequence and in order then it could be more accessible than the e-books where if you have downloaded a book, so it can get lost and the data could be accidentally deleted or an virus in the digital devices may sweep your collection of books or disintegrate the order of your books.

No matter how fancy the world gets in terms of gaining knowledge by digital devices from e-libraries, e-books, youtube videos, they are in no comparison to the feeling of physically entering a library, moving in a quiet place, and searching for a perfect book between the earthy fragrance of books, cause no one can deny the feeling of a new book's smooth pages and the old book's earthy and deep fragrance as it has to be a best experience.

Physical books/manual copies have always been a perfect choice for people who are a regular reader as it helps them to improve the choice and helps them to focus importantly on the book and the part they are supposed to without being distracted by the sounds of notifications and other messages and gaming apps. Unlike e-books they are very preferable choice for the elders. ~~and should be~~ This tradition should be carried on. of flipping pages!!
